

Form CRS - Customer Relationship Summary Financial Guidance Group, Inc.

Financial Guidance Group, Inc., is registered with the Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC) as an investment adviser. Brokerage and investment advisory services and fees differ and it is important for you to understand these differences. Free and simple tools are available to research firms and financial professionals at Investor.gov/CRS, which also provides educational materials about broker-dealers, investment advisers, and investing.

What investment services and advice can you provide me?

Our primary service is a comprehensive one combining ongoing wealth planning combined with ongoing investment management. We also provide wealth planning on a stand-alone, project basis.

When providing wealth planning services, we provide advice and other strategic assistance in areas such as cash management, educational funding, retirement planning, estate planning, risk management, tax planning, etc. You however are able to decide whether or not to implement any financial planning recommendations. Financial planning engagements can be ongoing or project oriented.

When providing portfolio management services, we not only make investment decisions but also implement these decisions and provide ongoing investment monitoring and reporting. We do not sell proprietary investment products or limit clients to certain types of investments. Portfolio management services are tailored to your individual needs and you may impose restrictions related to level of discretion granted, the types of investment used, etc. We require a minimum account size based on age but reserve the right to accept or decline any engagement.

For additional information about the services we provide, please see Item 4 of our Form ADV Part 2A Brochure at www.FGGinc.com.

Key questions to ask your financial professional:

Given my financial situation, should I choose an investment advisory service? Why or why not? How will you choose investments to recommend to me? What is your relevant experience, including your licenses, education and other qualifications? What do these qualifications mean?

What fees will I pay?

When providing ongoing wealth planning combined with investment management, we charge an ongoing asset based fee to cover both services. Asset based fees give the firm an incentive to encourage investors to increase assets in their accounts since the more an investor has in an account, the more the investor will pay in fees, but it also aligns our interest with yours in growing your assets. Our fee is calculated and deducted directly from your account quarterly in advance. Our fee is separate from all brokerage charges and any other custodial fees or expenses, mutual fund or ETF expenses, taxes, or other fees charged by outside parties.

When providing project-oriented wealth planning, we either charge a fixed fee that we quote in advance based on the complexity of the project, half of which is due upon engagement, or we charge on an hourly basis. Our wealth planning fees are separate from any fees or expenses assessed by outside parties.

You will pay fees and costs whether you make or lose money on your investments. Fees and costs will reduce any amount of money you make on your investments over time. Please make sure you understand what fees and costs you are paying.

For additional information about the fees we charge, please see Item 5 of our Form ADV Part 2A Brochure at www.FGGinc.com.

Key questions to ask your financial professional:

Help me understand how these fees and costs might affect my investments. If I give you $10,000 to invest, how much will go to fees and costs, and how much will be invested?

What are your legal obligations to me when acting as my investment adviser? How else does your firm make money and what conflicts of interest do you have?

When we act as your investment adviser, we have to act in your best interest and not put our interest ahead of yours. At the same time, the way we make money creates some conflicts with your interests. You should understand and ask us about these conflicts because they affect the investment advice we provide you. Here are some examples to help you understand what this means.

Some firms earn incentives by using proprietary products in client accounts, some firms share revenues with outside managers when directing client business, and some firms trade investments from their own inventory with their clients. We do not engage in these activities. We do however receive some non-monetary benefits from our custodian to whom we direct client business and the receipt of these benefits is considered a conflict of interest.

For additional information about our custodial arrangement, please see Item 12 of our Form ADV Part 2A Brochure at www.FGGinc.com.

Key questions to ask your financial professional:

How might your conflicts of interest affect me, and how will you address them?

How do your financial professionals make money?

Our financial professionals are compensated with base salary and bonus compensation from the firm. Our financial professionals do not receive economic benefits or other compensation from outside parties for investment sales.

Do you or your financial professionals have legal or disciplinary history?

No. Visit Investor.gov/CRS for a free and simple search tool to research us and our professionals.

Key questions to ask your financial professional:

As a financial professional, do you have any disciplinary history? For what type of conduct?

Where to go for additional information
